COMMITTEE MEETING
28th May 1996

Apologies: Youngblood
Brett Stocker

Absent: Jane Murphy (was she meant to be there)

Meeting Opened: 6:17pm
Seconded by Tyson (who else) and Jo

Business from last meetings minutes

Cocktail Party
Kirsten and Tiffany to do the tickets not publicity. The list for those who get cheap tickets has been done, see Kirsten. "How many hours for free cocktails?" "10 hours". Need to work out those who actually deserve cheap tickets, five minutes of hiesterical laughter! Committee members have to dress up no matter what.

Bloodbank
Tyson's baby. Still being organised at this stage but they have run out of blood so are very interested. Planning it for a day between 10am and 3pm in the Games Room. Still being decided whether the venue is suitable as need adequate lighting, power points, elevator close by etc. "Don't you know anything Tiff?" by Kirsten. Thanks love.

Re-O
The matter of dedication.
Tetley has piked out from organising it so Mark has come to the rescue. Has been booked for the week back after holidays 3-4th of August. This is during Re-O week and is good because noone ever has any work to do, some people don't do any work so it won't bother them anyway, I guess I'm free then! Letters will be sent to the first years and those 2nd and 3rd years worthy. Letter will also contain information on the Cocktail Party, I'm sorry the Pjo'n'gatail Party, and other events throughout the year. These need to be done during or before SWOT, so I will do them (Tiffany that is). "Tiff can fail her exams to do AUScA stuff" all present in agreement. We then need a committee meeting in the last week of the holidays.

Bowling
Youngblood is planning it and will talk about it at the general meeting as he had to go to work tonight.

General meetings
Will be changed to every first Tuesday night of the month.

Letter re:bookswap - pledge for another cheque since they incinerated their original.

QUESTIONS
Mark - Book exchange money - sitting stagnant in an account we cannot touch unless it's for the good of all students. Could be invested to make money instead of always losing money. There is nothing in the consititution to stop this. Approximately $5000. Need some information on the investments before anything can be decided.

REPORTS
Winery Tour
Report by Jo - Lots of hickies, chocolate and fun. We had a really cool bus driver who did about 20 toilet stops. For once there was no spews. Like we say every year we should go earlier to see the vats full, not that it would have made much of a difference as we didn't even get the grand tour. Tyson "Was there a pool up there? Coz some people were wearing there bathers". The trip to the chocolate factory was good.

Beach

Prosh

Drank the bus dry, this is still in debate. We were jipped half an hour, did Nelda end up yelling at them? Roundabout was great again, except we got kicked off really early this time. The fountain flopped, apparently it worked really well for about 10 minutes but I never saw it! Need to organise things earlier!

OTHER BUSINESS

Committee Meeting

Will be held in the holidays and will be a BBQ and beer night/afternoon at Kirstens on the 22nd which is the last Monday. It will stary at 1pm and will also be all night movies, hopefully skulling movies, you know where you pick a word or phrase and if it comes up you skull and yeah yeah get the picture. Chis can't come because everybody wants "No fighting at home". Hmmmm.

Bulletin Board

Catacombs has said it would be fine. Just need to check with maintainence people for where we want to put it (Hopefully to cover up Tina!).

Meeting closed at 7:04pm
